

Jenny Lundquist

School Visit Details and Rates

Jenny is the author of six novels for tweens and teens with a seventh, The Carnival of Wishes and Dreams, releasing in 2019 from Aladdin/Simon & Schuster. Her books have received good reviews from Kirkus, Voya, School Library Journal and Publisher's Weekly. Her middle grade novel, Seeing Cinderella, was a Scholastic Book Fair selection.

Praise for The Charming Life of Izzy Malone:

"Izzy's frank, vulnerable, sassy first-person narration reveals her surprising journey from a solitary girl talking to the stars to a girl with friends to light her way...This story of an atypical girl, her family, and friends, laced with middle school drama, is indeed a charming one." -Kirkus Reviews

"A heartwarming coming-of-age journey...Lundquist deftly portrays the pain of being odd girl out, both at school and at home." -Publisher's Weekly

Presentations: (For 3rd-6th grade)

- Are approx. 50 minutes and will include discussing sources of inspiration as well as where writers get their ideas, the different components of a good story, and playing "Battle of the Instant Storytellers" where students will brainstorm and plot out their book ideas...all in five to ten minute "battle rounds"
- Each presentation will include free bookmarks for each student.
- I am also happy to coordinate with Barnes & Noble for any students who would like to purchase signed books and/or do a nighttime/Saturday afternoon book signing if your school chooses to participate in Barnes and Noble's school bookfair fundraising program.

Rates: (Negotiable)

(posted rates do not include travel expenses outside of the Sacramento area)

- $500 Full School Day / $250 Half Day
- I also provide free 30 minute Q&A Skype sessions
- Tech needs: I present on Powerpoint, so I will need a projector and a screen/Smartboard
